

Fundraisers

The fundraisers that we engage are enthusiastic and self-motivated people who hold an interest in conservation and wildlife. They interact with members of the public at pre-booked venues and events, detailing the work that our clients do, how people can help, and entice them to get involved through a monthly or annual donation.

Our clients are continuously working to save the natural world, and the objective of a fundraiser is to make this known to the general public who may not have heard of everything that is being worked towards. Working for Wildlife look for people with great communication skills, who are passionate about the environment, who can spread the word about the client's campaigns, who can create new interest in the minds of the people they meet, and who can convert that into long-term financial support.

Working for Wildlife supply uniform and equipment, as well as all necessary compliance and fundraising information sessions. A full driving license and access to a vehicle is crucial.

Earnings and Fees

Working for Wildlife contract fundraisers on a self-employed and commission-only basis. There is no cap on earning potential and no minimum targets to meet. Fundraisers' invoices are paid on a fortnightly basis. Expenses are provided on certain pre-agreed occasions.

Commencement with Working for Wildlife

You will start on a trial period - the first day being alongside one of our highly experienced Team Leaders who will go through compliance and provide some on-the-ground experience of fundraising. The trial period is generally 2 to 4 weeks and will conclude once you have attended an in-house session with the charity that you're representing.

After you complete the trial period and the in-house session, you will be offered a formal self-employed contract and all the benefits that comes with it.

If you are interested, please e-mail fundraising@working4wildlife.org with some information about yourself. For successful applicants, your details will be passed on to one of our Team Leaders, who will get in touch to further discuss the opportunity.

Our Clients

Plantlife

Wild flowers, plants and fungi are the life support for all our wildlife and their colour and character light up our landscapes. But without our help, this priceless natural heritage is in danger of being lost.

From the open spaces of our nature reserves to the corridors of government, we work nationally and internationally to raise their profile, celebrate their beauty, and to protect their future. <https://www.plantlife.org.uk/uk>

The Woodland Trust

As the UK's largest woodland conservation charity, we are the leading voice for woods and trees. We campaign to protect precious ancient woods, restore the ones that are damaged and fight for those under threat. We create new native woodland around the UK with the help of communities, schools, organisations and individuals. <http://www.woodlandtrust.org.uk/>

WWF

Our ultimate goal has always been “people living in harmony with nature” - so we're about respecting and valuing the natural world and finding ways to share the Earth's resources fairly. To achieve that, we spend a lot of time working with communities, with politicians and with businesses too.

Greenpeace

Greenpeace campaigns in the UK and globally for a greener and more peaceful world, including for a GM-free future and the elimination of toxic chemicals. We defend the natural world and promote peace by investigating, exposing and confronting environmental abuse, and by championing environmentally responsible solutions. Greenpeace is people like you. People who are passionate about protecting the Earth through positive action.

The Ramblers

The Ramblers is a charity whose goal is to protect the ability of people to enjoy the sense of freedom and benefits that come from being outdoors on foot. We're an association of people and groups who come together to both enjoy walking and other outdoor pursuits and also to ensure that we protect and expand the infrastructure and places people go walking. <https://www.ramblers.org.uk/>
